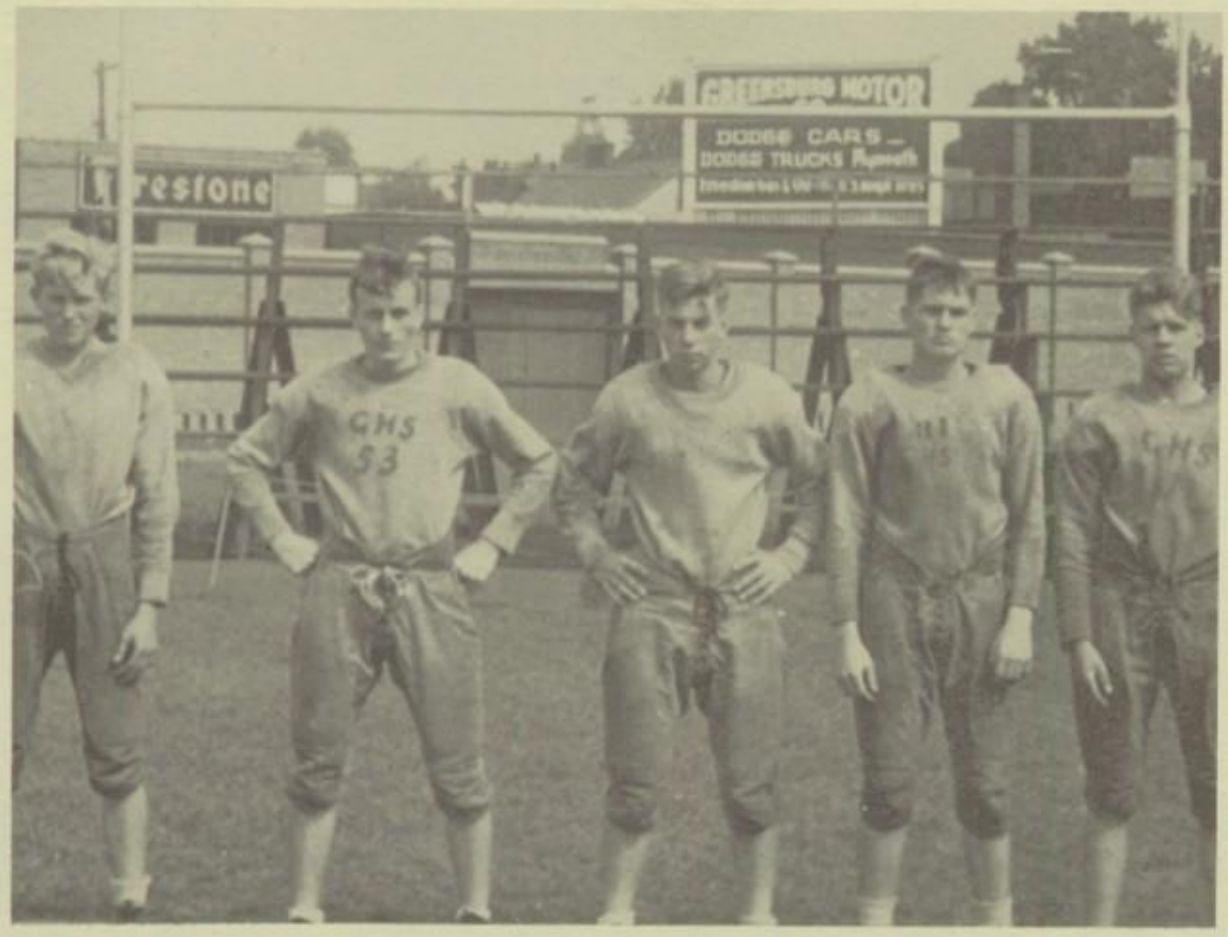
GREENSBURG SALEM SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

100th anniversary



THE EARLY YEARS The Greensburg School District came into existence in 1863 with the building of the first public high school on what was known as Academy Hill. This multistory building was said to have a bell that could be heard all over the built-up portion of town and its suburbs. The school was built on the site where Greensburg Academy once stood, a private school built in 1810. Hence, the name Academy Hill originated from the establishment of the Greensburg Academy. In 1881, Greensburg High's first graduation was held and the class consisted of two girls. In the early 1890's football, or rugby as it was known, was first seen at Greensburg High. A second public high school was added to Academy Hill in 1897, the same year in which the office of school superintendent was created. This new high school was pronounced the finest in the state by the Chancellor of Western University of Pa. The turn of the century saw many new events happen at Greensburg High. In 1901, the football team captured their first victory over a school team, and the next year they held their first football banquet. In 1905, the first yearbook was published. It was named the Brown and White and was a mixture of the school newspaper, literature, and yearbook material. This small magazine or pamphlet was printed monthly, with the last one being devoted to the seniors and their commencement. In 1906, the first Alma Mater was printed. The first commercial course was added to the curriculum in 1916. That same year also marked the end of a thirty game winning streak for the football team. A boys varsity basketball team was officially organized in 1915, but the girls still played intramurally with one team representing each grade. The boys highest scoring games were a 94-0 win over Windber and a 97-0 victory over Johnstown. In 1919, the football team won their 100th game. The next major step in 1926 was the completion of the new Million Dollar High School consisting of an auditorium, gymnasium, swimming pool, and a cafeteria. This building is still standing and now serves as the Greensburg Salem Junior High School. In 1920 and 1921, Greensburg High was considered the state high school football champions and in 1927 the champion of the WPIAL. 1930'S The 1930's saw new clubs such as the Commercial Club, Future Farmers of America, Girls Home Mechanics Club and Boys Hi Y. Radio was a popular form of entertainment for everyone, and the formation of a Radio Club at school was a big success. Events such as the May Queen Coronation, class banquets, Halloween parties, a circus with each homeroom participating, and a New Year's dance were a part of school life. The yearbook staff published the first hardcover yearbook in 1936. Our football team captured their 200th victory in 1931 with a 31-0 win over Connellsville. Even though student life continued at pretty much the same pace, the hardships of the great depression could be felt. Everything was very subdued compared to the flashing lifestyles of the twenties.

1940'S The 1940's was an end to the Great Depression and the onset of a world war. In Greensburg, quite a few young men were active in the war effort. Even the girls were involved in the Red Cross. The war put a damper on school life and several activities were either cancelled or badly in need of students. After the war was over, life continued as before. Music and drama were very popular with the students. Operettas were presented. Dances such as the prom and May Queen were held in the gymnasium and weekly dances were held by the Student Council. The yearbook won a gold medal in the Columbia Press contest and a first-class rating in the National Scholastic Press contest. The first school newspaper — Greensburger — was printed. Intramural basketball and the Dolphin Club were popular among the girls. The football team won their 300th victory in 1948 with a score of 40-0 against Youngwood High. Styles such as saddle shoes, crew cuts, loafers, pleated pants, and letter sweaters were seen on all teens. Assemblies were held every Friday. These assemblies were usually entertainment with each class furnishing the student talent and eventually an all school talent show. Professional assemblies were also furnished with the Student Council financing them. Prominent national and local speakers were invited. The purchase of an organ by the Student Council was given to the school as a memorial to the boys who gave their lives in World War II. A plaque with all names was placed in the hall.

1950'S As Greensburg moved into the 1950's, many changes began to take place. There was music and dancing in the gymnasium during lunch periods.

Television was quickly becoming the new source of entertainment. People were now able to imitate their favorite stars, since they saw them on television. Teenagers began idolizing actors and actresses. Many teens could be found watching Dick Clark's American Bandstand on television each week. Elvis Presley and Chuck Berry were favorite teen idols. Saturday night dances held at the Armory were popular with the students and so were the after football game get togethers at Tony's Dairy Bar. During the week, the guys could usually be found at Lou's Pool Room discussing their new wheels, while the girls could be found at Beitler's gossiping about their new teen idols. In 1958, the Greensburg School District merged with Salem Township to bring the proud name of Greensburg Salem to our high school. The 50's were a time of drag races, poodle skirts, bobbi socks, jukebox Saturday nights, and ducktails. The yellow brick school building, which accommodated the 7th, 8th, and 9th graders, was torn down and an addition was built to the high school.

1960'S As Greensburg rocked and rolled into the 1960's, the average student changed considerably. New fads such as mini skirts, bell bottoms, hulu hoops, and crew cuts flooded the school. It was a time when teenagers broke away from conformity. Their protests were evident in dress, music, and general lifestyle. The invasion of the Beatles had a tremendous impact on the American society. Beatlemania was felt everywhere. Signs reading Peace not War flooded the land and so did the anger toward the Vietnam war. The students of the 60's, for the first time in history, openly voiced their frustrations and opinions against the older generation. A new senior high school was completed in January 1963 on Mennel Drive, and the students eagerly moved in after the experience of split sessions. In 1962, the Lions won their 400th victory in football. The school newspaper changed its name to the Golden Echo in 1963 and to the Lions Den in 1966. On July 20, 1969, Neil Armstrong and Ed Aldrin landed the Apollo II space craft on the moon. Although turbulent, the 60's will be remembered for its many contributions to society.

1970'S The early 70's had the same spirit of rebellion that the 60's were remembered. During this era there was a great deal of self- evaluation. Students became skeptical, and their belief that they could change the world was severely challenged. The Vietnam war finally came to an end, but the bitterness lingered on.

The people saw the first president resign from his office, and the Nixon watergate hearings were seen on television for weeks. 1976 marked the year of the bi-centennial and celebrations were held everywhere. The death of Elvis Presley added a sorrowful note to the 70's. In 1970, the yearbook changed its name to the Lions. In 1973, the football team won their first Foothills Conference championship. The marching band took many awards in competitions. During 1978 and 1979, the junior and senior high schools went on split session while the junior high building was being remodeled. The 1970's will be long remembered by the students for its discos, long gas lines, international tensions, designer clothes, star wars, and its unique contributions to this remarkable era.

1980'S As we move into the 80's, many more changes will await us, along with new challenges and new discoveries. What we have strived for in the past, we will achieve in the future. Even though these beginning years have been remarkably eventful, the later years will undoubtedly be very significant, especially to the graduating seniors. We will always look back upon these years with fond memories. In 1980, we completed our first year as high school students. We were glad to get that over with, because being sophomores, we had to start all over again at the bottom of the ladder and work our way up. But somehow we managed to get through the first year of new teachers and hard work. The next year was easier for us. We were no longer strangers, but instead we were a class beginning to make a name for ourselves. We enjoyed being involved in high school life, and being juniors meant that we were half way toward our goal of becoming seniors. By the end of our junior year, the words college and SAT's were firmly implanted in our minds. We spent that summer doing serious thinking about our future and waiting somewhat sorrowfully and excitedly for our last year of school to begin, the year when we would be seniors and that number "82" we had been wearing on our jackets would finally hold real meaning. That year finally came, and with it a lot of thinking, decisions, and writing and filling out applications. We thought these problems would never end, but they were quickly eased away in all of our fun and excitement. We were proud to be the 100th graduating class. Nobody will forget our symbol for "82" and the excitement at our pep assemblies.

Even though our football team did not reach its goal of 500, No. 499 made us just as proud of them. Our ferocious lions cloth will always be a remembrance of our great school spirit. The future is quickly approaching, a time when we will venture out on our own. We will always look back upon these years with pride. "This is not the end. It is not even the beginning of the end. But it is perhaps the end of the beginning."

GRADUATION DAY

Today we'll start a new life
And we'll say our last goodbyes
To all the friends we've grown to love with whom we've laughed and cried.

Remembering the fun and laughter,
The problems and the fears,
And watching all our memories
grow
Throughout our high school years.

The memories of the dances
And the new friends that we've met,
Vacations, teachers, talking
And exams we'd rather forget.

Yes, high school days are precious
but brief,
Where all your dreams come true;
It is not the end, but the beginning
Of a life we'll start anew.

Joy Shefstad
